

THE UNITED STATES COAST GUARD BAND

COMMANDER KENNETH W. MEGAN, DIRECTOR

CONCERT BAND SCHEDULE

A LOOK TO THE FUTURE

Sunday, May 13, 2007—2 p.m.

Leamy Hall Auditorium

The United States Coast Guard Band presents A Look to the Future, an afternoon of new conductors and young soloists. Featured on this matinée are Conducting Laboratory participants and Young Artist Competition winners, as well Senior Chief Musician Albert A. Lyman Jr, who dazzles as xylophone soloist.

Over the past year, three musicians in the Band have studied the intricate art of conducting as part of the newly established Conducting Laboratory. After a year of lessons, score studying, and practicing “air baton,” they take the stage in performance. Chief Musicians Vince Yanovitch, Joel Flunker, and Adam Crowe conduct rarely heard works by Johann Strauss, Percy Grainger, and Ottorino Respighi.

Two finalists were chosen in the Band’s first-ever Young Artist Competition: Gabriel Colby, trombone, a senior at Avon High School performs Blue Bells of Scotland, and flutist Hannah Horowitz, a senior at Wethersfield High School, is the soloist in the Concertino of Cecile Chaminade.

Senior Chief Musician Albert A. Lyman Jr. retires after 28 years as a percussionist in the Band. He is soloist in the virtuosic Golden Age of the Xylophone.
